

STEVE DAVIS

Steve Davis is a Compliance Safety & Health Officer with the North Carolina Department of Labor, Occupational Safety & Health Division. He is assigned to the Asheville District Office. He currently serves as the Chair of the OSH Division's team for the Special Emphasis Program for Food Manufacturing, NAICS 311 employers, in North Carolina.

Prior to joining the Department of Labor, Mr. Davis held several safety positions in private industry covering heavy equipment manufacturing, loss prevention with an insurance service company, and positions with employers in the textile industry.

Mr. Davis has a Bachelor's of Science degree in Safety Management from Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Davis is married and his primary interests are traveling and Western-style square dancing.

10/13/09