

..... Ron's Bio

Ron Gildersleeve began work at NC OSH in 1994 and worked there for 8 years as a Safety Compliance Officer and later as Safety Consultant in the district from Gastonia to Murphy. His activities included conducting job-site inspections, and consultative visits, and teaching safety classes to OSH employees.

After retiring from NC OSH, in 2002, Ron began work as the safety manager for a large masonry company (Griffin Masonry) where he documented the company's safety program, set up employee safety training classes, and conducted job-site inspections. The company's work included both brick work and concrete work.

In 2006, Ron began working for a consulting company in Charlotte (OSEA) where he taught safety classes and conducted job-site inspections.

Since late 2008, Ron has been restoring a 1956 Chevy and hopes to finish in 2010 or 2011.
