

Jeremy Nauert

With degrees in Biology and Spanish, Jeremy Nauert followed a rather indirect route toward a career in safety management. While working as a research biologist at Monsanto, he began to take on a voluntary leadership role for safety within his department. From there, his steps toward a career change became more intentional and progressive. Along the way, he was a licensed EMT in two states and an OSHA-authorized Outreach Trainer for General Industry. He has worked in healthcare, insurance, the temporary staffing industry and various manufacturing settings. For the past five years, Jeremy has worked for Colbond in Enka, North Carolina as the Quality, Health, Safety and Environmental Manager. He has recently been assigned to coordinate the safety programs of the global Colbond organization, including plants in Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium and Scotland.
